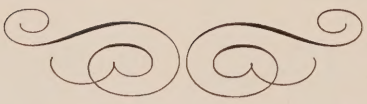
FOREWORD

This volume records our valued experiences and brings back treasured memories of our youth and many happy hours spent in P. H. S. It will have fulfilled its purpose if in the days yet to come it can recall to our hearts the warm glow of school-day joy and fellowship.



CLASS POEM

THE DOUBLE TRACK

I stood on the station platform
On the skirts of a little town,
From opposite directions
Two trains came thundering down;
Like two great angry demons,
With a speed they ne'er did slack,
They plunged by the little station
And the steel-bound double track!

When the flying trains had vanished
And the smoke had cleared away,
I stood on the platform musing,—
My thoughts running back to a day
When a train pulled off on a siding,
And there it would quietly lie
While a train from the opposite direction
In dignified manner passed by.

If, then, one were out on a journey,
While his train would lie on the switch
He could climb down the steps at his leisure
And stroll away off down the ditch
And eat to his full of wild berries;
Then slowly wend his way back;
But now he has taken the "flyer,"
And is off on a great double track.

Ah yes, we're off on the "flyer"
And the speed is racking our nerves,
And our heads are so light and so dizzy
While dashing around the sharp curves;
We're flying through forests and meadows—
Such beautiful scenes—but alas!
Of all the ravishing beauty
We catch but a glimpse as we pass.

Our class is nearing a junction—
Already its lamps are in sight;
We're about to step down from the platform
For now ends our swift, dizzy flight;
But no—I mistake, 'tis not ended,
For here we only change cars;
But here, for a while, we would tarry
'Neath the soft, quiet light of the stars.

But tomorrow we leave this fair junction
And we never more shall come back;
I could wish that we might take, tomorrow,
A train on the old single track
To go through life a bit slower,
I'm indeed very free to confess,
As I now see the case it were better
Than to ride on the lightning express!

Electrical Board 1, 2, 3, Chief 4; Soccer 3, 4.

Al has conceived more ways of manipulating electrical devices than anyone in school. Who knows, he may know the difference between a watt, an empere, and a volt. If he does, he should have graduated with honors. He is rather inarticulate, but put him on a switchboard and he'll be at home.

EDMUND ALDEN BROWN

"Mr. Brown"

Classical — Amherst

Lost and Found 2, 3, 4; Soccer 4; Latin Club 4; Hockey 4; Banker 2.

Alden belongs to the honorable group of studious people. Wouldn't it be great if we could all learn to enjoy studying as much as he does?

CLASS HISTORY

FRESHMAN YEAR

On September 7, 1933, the Cuban Army staged a bloodless revolution, removed the established government, and substituted one of their own. At the same time, in Plainfield High School, a revolution of equal international importance was taking place; the entering freshman class were being revolutionized by the faculty into a suitable class of '37. The events of that memorable day will not soon be forgotten. Pale of face and wan of visage, we frosh roamed untamed in the labyrinth-like halls of P. H. S., affecting not to notice the smiles which greeted our innocent request for information leading to the whereabouts of the cafeteria, or the gales of laughter which rewarded our vain efforts to retrieve fallen books.

However, we showed promise of our future greatness by smiling through like thorough-going sportsmen, and when the Cuban disestablishmentarianists (rebels to most of us) met and chose Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin President of the Junta, we refused to be outdone and elected Richard Rugen as president of our class, no junta being handy. Other officers were: Peggy Davey, vice-president; Janet Wilson, secretary; and Roger Hight, treasurer.

Other important events of our first year in P. H. S. were: recognition of Russia by the United States, granting of Philippine independence by Congress, and the winning of the interclass track meet by the freshman class, who totaled 39 points more than the seniors, their nearest competitors.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

At the same time as a new, self-confident sophomore class was rising from the ignominy of Frosh-hood, the steamship Morro Castle, bound from Havana to New York, caught fire off Asbury Park, New Jersey. One hundred thirty-nine persons were killed. A few days later one Bruno Richard Hauptmann, a carpenter, was arrested near his Bronx, New York, home, charged with the murder of nineteen-months-old Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

In the midst of breath-taking events, we were startled to find that time had rolled around for another election. The campaign was so keenly contested that two ballots were required in order to choose the president. However, the sophomores, inspired by that glorious battle-cry, "Good things come in Small Packages," swept Little Willy Felch into office on the second vote. Dick Rugen was elected vice-president, Bar Mason, secretary, and Dave Morrison, treasurer.

After we had managed (some of us) to struggle through mid-year exams, our attention was attracted to the intricacies of the one-way traffic system. However, we mastered it with varying degrees of difficulty, and we still have hopes that certain members of the faculty may eventually meet with equal success.

Next, the sophomore girls proved themselves imbued with the class of '37 spirit by triumphing conclusively over the other three classes in archery. Members of the team were: Betty Bradley, captain, Margaret Basso, Rachel Drinkwater, Muriel Gustafson, and Dorothy Willey.

The declamation contest was won that year by one Furman Phelps, who, though he started out in life as a member of the class of '36, was so highly regarded by our faculty that they requested him to stay on yet another year, and become an honorary classmate of ours.

JUNIOR CLASS

Many happenings had happened when next we convened in September, 1935, now as the junior class of Plainfield High. The Macon, pride of the United States Navy, had followed its sister, the Akron, to the bottom of the sea. The Social Security Bill had been passed by Congress, and Will Rogers and Wiley Post had crashed near Point Barrow, Alaska. Still, the sun rose on September 11, followed closely by us. Some of us entered these classic portals self-consciously at 7:45, trying to look as if this was all old stuff. Others dashed madly in at 8:29, already mentally reviewing last year's excuses.

However, when we had once again become accustomed to the ancient grind, we met and selected our class officers: Dave Morrison, president; Margaret Davey, vice-president; Janet Wilson, secretary; and Calvin Schwartz, treasurer.

Noting that the departing seniors had remembered us in their will, to the extent of leaving us the privilege of sleeping through chapel, we juniors, especially those of us in Mr. Hatt's class, set about to make the most of our inheritance. We particularly enjoyed sleeping through a program entitled the "Skilling Family," though it was generally called by some other name.

On Tuesday, December 20, the roar of Italian guns in Ethiopia was drowned out by the gales of laughter emanating from the auditorium of Plainfield High School, where jovial students, free from the threat of mid-year exams, had gathered to witness the unveiling of sundry skeletons, recruited from the past, and intended to propagate chagrin among more amatorial juniors. All of which means the Junior Roast, and those roasted were: Bar Mason, Helen Cuff, Peggy Davey, Ruth Hudson, Bert Mauro, Bob Utzinger, Bill Day, Dave Morrison, and Nancy Johnson.

As predicted over the radio, time marched on, and after passing through King George Fifth's death, the Spanish Election, and the usual South American Revolution, we arrived breathlessly at the day on which those two long awaited junior dramatizations, "The King's English" and "Station YY YY," took place. Thespians in "English" were Marjorie Burdick, Bert Mauro, Dan Hogan, Ben Merrill, Carl Kling, Chadwick Reed, Bob Ware, Wilfred Mott-ley, Joseph Camarda, and Bill Schrampf. Those taking part in "YYYY" were Peggy Davey, Charles Curran, Peggy Hanson, Barbara Mason, Janet Wilson, Furman Phelps, Carlton Rice, and Bob Ware. Off-stage noises were supplied gratis by Chadwick Reed.

Then came the boys' declamation contest, and though four juniors were entered in the finals, the lone senior took first prize. However, we secured partial revenge when Ann Kniazuk, of the class of '37, triumphed in the girls' event.

SENIOR YEAR

On September 9, 1935, the United States' Senate Committee on Campaign expenditures disclosed that a group of millionaires had contributed to the Republican Campaign Fund in Maine some $51,600. This astounding figure was really shoved into Lilliputian insignificance by the fact that we of the class of '37 each felt like $1,000,000,000, for we had gone to bed the night before as ordinary human beings, and had awakened to find ourselves the senior class of Plainfield High School.

When we had sufficiently recovered from the glory of our new positions to make our needs navigable in and outdoors, we installed our class officers. They were: Dave Morrison, president; Bert Mauro, vice-president; Alice Ariel, secretary; William Felch, treasurer.

About Xmas tide we secured revenge when we, in turn, roasted the juniors. Then came the Christmas vacation, and the long winter weeks so abhorred by students. However, we providentially recovered from a case of the flu just in time to witness the senior class's production of "The Witching Hour," with a famous cast including, Furman Phelps, Charles Curran, Eugene Stryker, Janet Wilson, Helen Feinsilber, Emy Lamb, Edson Marahrens, and Harrison Williams. Though we are tremendously exuberant at having finished the composing of this imissito, we become wistful when we remember that it marks the close of our Plainfield High career. After five or six years one does learn to love the place.

So with mingled feelings of quiet and happiness we close this history, and incidentally our careers, at dear old P. H. S.

CALENDAR 1936-1937

September 9

Dear Diary, today I took down my school face from a corner of my closet shelf where it landed last June, buckled it on, and hurried off to dear old P. H. S. Here I enjoyed (?) a number of games of leap frog with some bewildered freshmen who seemed smaller than ever, and also had my first dose of homework for the year. Maybe I'd better get started.

October

Dear Diary, the first Friday night dance went off with a bang, with the Pleumer Brothers' orchestra swinging the music. Everyone had a nifty time.

October

Dear Diary, the Entree made its appearance today with chatter restored. Three cheers!

October

Dear Diary, our first football game was the annual battle with our neighbor across the brook. Plainfield gave her rival a good battle and came out with the long end of the score. We have oral themes tomorrow, and my voice lost itself at the game. I hope it stays lost till after they're over.

October

Dear Diary, we had a mock election in school today with all the dodads of a regular one. The speeches were good, and tomorrow we vote. May the best man win.

October

Dear Diary, the school on the whole seemed to think Roosevelt the best man.

November 4

Dear Diary, no school on account of there is more than one man who wants to be President. I wish we had presidential elections every week.

November 5

Dear Diary, the nation and P. H. S. both seem to agree—Roosevelt is President.

November 11

Dear Diary (Armistice day?)

November 24

Dear Diary, we get the rest of this week off to eat and count our blessings.

November 25

Dear Diary, tonight was the Wayne Carter dance given for one of the boys who was hurt in a football game. It was a great success. The Pleumer Brothers played.

December 18

Dear Diary the swimming team splashed their way to victory over Rahway in their first meet of the season. The basketball team didn't do so well being beaten by Columbia. I guess it was the new uniforms.

December 23

Dear Diary, what a day! The Junior Roast this morning, the junior-senior dance this afternoon, and on top of that another Hi-Tri dance tonight. These extracurricular activities won't give my feet a rest.

January 4

Dear Diary, school again and more homework. Oh, gleeps.

January 15

Dear Diary, senior play try-outs. Whatever the seniors do, will be good. (ahem!)

January 29

Dear Diary, Doctor Fretwell gave a very interesting talk in chapel today on school spirit. I hope we all profit by it. Also the Hi-Triers swing a hobo dance.

February 5

Dear Diary, the Leaders' Club added their bit to the festivities of the month—a dance.

February 12

Dear Diary, Lincoln came to my rescue today. I didn't get up till noon.

February 22

Dear Diary, good old George Washington! I managed to catch up on a little sleep.

March 12

Dear Diary, we murdered popular songs in chapel today. I don't think the fad will last unless our voices improve.

March 13

Dear Diary, the senior play lived up to my expectations and was swell. I'm still laughing.

March 25

Dear Diary, at last I can have a breathing spell. No school for ten days. Three cheers for Easter.

June

Dear Diary, no time to write—exams—Oh, heaven help me.

June

Dear Diary, the class day dance swung itself to a close. It was smooth.

June 24

Dear Diary, today we left P. H. S. doors forever, as pupils at least. I think I'll frame my diploma. It's wonderful to know I don't have to worry about marks for awhile now, but rather sad to think that I won't be back next year.

The last festivity of the season, the commencement dance, is over. And with that I'll give you, my diary, a rest till next year. Cheerio!

TRANSCONTINENTAL RECORD

San Francisco (M.P.)

A new world's record was set when Mr. James Walsh succeeded in crossing the United States in the remarkably short time of three years, going all the way in his streamlined scooter. Walsh attributes his success to that wonderful combination of Camels, Wheaties, and Postum. However, his last words before he fell fainting into the arms of his admirers were "O Mariam."

SWEEPING REFORMS

Approving shouts greeted Mrs. Nancy Johnson, delegate from the city of Watchung, when she introduced a bill in the New Jersey state legislature to abolish the practice of selling hot dogs without mustard. The sole opposition came from Mr. Frank Straub, owner of the Yellow Turret Frankfurter Restaurant.

The Rt. Hon. Cal Schwartz of the firm of Schwartz, Williams, and Walsh, supported the bill in a stirring speech before the Senate committee.

POLICE WARN AGAINST BAD $4 BILLS

Sergeant John Tombro issued a warning against counterfeit $4 bills. According to the police, the picture of President Morrison is slightly lopsided. This case is believed to be the work of the Merrill, Wimer, Nagel gang, who were arrested as they came out of Utzinger's Drug Store.

SCIENTISTS ASTOUNDED

The world of science was thunderstruck, today, when Professor Harold Bareford, head of the mathematics department at San Quentin College, issued this statement: "A straight line is the shortest distance between two points." This statement may be definitely proved by taking Rushmore's law of gravity and Ginder's law of averages, together with ten wrappers from nine bottles of Lacosta Facial Cream, shake well, and apply to the head of the sufferer.

HRANKOWSKI OFF TO CAMP

Stanley Hrankowski, manager of the Scotch Plains Tigers, left for the Tigers' training camp at Honolulu. The fiery playing-manager predicted that his team would clinch the pennant before July. The return of that slugging outfielder, Ray Lewis, has made the Yankees the only team to beat.

BILL HENRY SIGNS HIPPODROME CONTRACT

William Henry, who is recognized by the South Plainfield boxing commission as World's Underweight Champion, signed a contract to appear on the sport night spectacle which the Hippodrome is going to present. Featured also in this colossal exhibit of manly sports are the two leading contenders for the paperweight title, Knockout Felch and Slugging Salowe.

HOCKEY STAR OUT OF HOSPITAL

Edson Marahrens, flashy wing on the Quebec Die Hards Hockey Team, was recently discharged from the hospital. He said that he was fully recovered from the broken toe which he suffered during the Stanley Cup Playoffs when he accidentally kicked goalie Seidell's head. When asked about his long convalescence, Marahrens sighed, "That red-headed nurse."

REED'S THEATRES ANNIVERSARY COMING ATTRACTIONS

Manager Solon Reed expressed great hopes for the coming year. Plainfielders, according to Mr. Reed, will have the extraordinary pleasure of seeing Jane Doeringer and Lester Evans in the thrilling mellowdrama, "The Glory of Love." This picture, with an entirely original interpretation, will also feature the beautiful tenor voice of George Cary singing Francis Quarles' new song hit, "Hully Henry & Heaven."

AT THE FREEDOM

Vincent Roszko, manager of the Freedom Theatre, announces that he has secured two smashing hits, hot from Television City, "Anything Goes" and "Skippy." "With two such pictures," said Mr. Roszko, "maybe we won't have to pay the customers to come."

BROADWAY PLAYBOY SETTLES TO SENIOR'S CAREER OF PRODUCING

Bill Felch, the celebrated playboy and ladies' man, in a private interview with this paper, stated that he was through with frivolity and ready at last, at the tender age of 29, to settle down to the serious business of producing. Like the late Mr. Ziegfeld, Bill has chosen to produce the "Follies of the Fifties" and intends to make this initial effort a super-colossal, stupendous, cycloramic, gigantic success.

BATHING BEAUTY OF MANASQUAN BEACH PROCLAIMED MISS AMERICA OF 1950

The recent annual Bathing Beauty contest, which took place at Manasquan Beach, was won by the Local Beauty, Ruth Fox (Lamb). The lucky contestant wore a royal blue lastex suit, bought at Rosenbaums which now has a branch at Manasquan owned by the cousins Naomi and Harriet. To return to our subject—Ruthie will embark in the latter part of next month on the "Duke of Windsor" for the Riviera where the International contest will be held.

FOOTBALL

The football season of 1936 marked changes in the coaching staff when, upon the appointment of former coach Hub Stine as director of athletics of Plainfield schools, former assistant Coach Bill Brann took over the reins of head coach, the services of Mr. Jack Liddy, formerly of Rutgers U, being obtained as the new assistant coach.

The Cardinals retained the city championship in the first game of the season, taking the Canucks over the hurdles 14-0. Our old rivalry with Westfield was renewed in the final game of the season, the two teams fighting a scoreless draw. Besides these two games, the team obtained one victory and lost five times.

Much credit must be given to Co-captains Charlie Nagel and Johnny Tombro and Coaches Brann and Liddy for the success of the team, for although it did not win a majority of the games, it was always capable of giving the opposition a good fight.

BASKETBALL

The P. H. S. basketball team enjoyed, as a whole, a decidedly successful season. The main feature of the campaign was the winning of the city championship from the Canucks in three hard-fought contests. The latter easily gained victory in the first game when "Hank" Beenders, tall lanky Canuck center, scored seventeen points. The North Plainfield "five" returned to their own gymnasium for the second encounter and were taken into camp by a two-point margin, 25-23. After the toss, the final game was decided to be fought out on the P. H. S. floor where the Cardinals came out on top of a 31-29 score after one of the cleanest, most exciting battles ever contested between the two rival schools. The Cards scored other important victories over Passaic and Rahway, two of the best teams in New Jersey, while they divided two games with their ancient rival Westfield.

SQUAD

Ray Tice, Alex Brooks, Dave Morrison, Len Strom, Stan Gabruck, Willie Bassoff, and Johnny Danyo. Of these seven boys Tice, Brooks, Morrison, and Strom are seniors.

SWIMMING

The swimming season was a pronounced success, Coach Victor Liske's mermen outswimming eleven of their fifteen opponents and losing only one meet in their own pool. The Prep School team of Hun was the only one to sink the Cardinals in the P. H. S. tank, while Thomas Jefferson of Elizabeth and Columbia of South Orange were the only outfits to defeat them in foreign water. Notable triumphs were those scored over Bloomfield, Westfield, and Montclair, the first mentioned bowing by only a single point.

The team was represented by Jim Walsh, co-captain, and Bob Rock in the dive, Bill Shumsky and Co-captain George Van Mater in the backstroke, John Runyon and Harold Stryker in the breast stroke, Olaf Berentsen and Jack Ware in the 40-yard free style, Dick Loizeaux and Joe Hellen in the 100-yard free style, and Charlie Harris and Alex Robins in the 220-yard free style.

Walsh did not lose a single diving contest throughout the season, Harris losing only to his Hun School opponent in the 220-yard swim. Other swimmers who won a majority of their races were Berentsen, Shumsky, Loizeaux, and Runyon.

BASEBALL

Prospects for P. H. S. being represented by a good diamond team during the '37 season appear very hopeful. The main reason for this optimistic outlook lies in the fortunate circumstance that only two members of last year's "nine" were lost through graduation. They are former Captain Clement "Knee High" De Rose, star outfielder, and James "Sunny Jim" Perkins, dependable pitcher. The returning lettermen include Stan Schlicta, pitcher, Johnny Tombro, catcher, infielders Mike Jackson, Al Swetly, Stan Hrankowski, and Johnny Danyo, and outfielders Jim Caulfield and Ray Lewis. These boys are certain to be given lively competition for their positions by ambitious rookies who played junior varsity ball last year.

Mr. Liddy will succeed Mr. Stine as coach of the "nine."

A twenty-game schedule has been arranged by the latter which includes for the first time in five years North Plainfield High, who has been unable to finance a team in the past few years. The last time we fought the Canucks on the diamond was in the spring of 1935.

TRACK

With all but three of last year's team returning, the Plainfield High tracksters anticipate another successful track season. Ed Johnson, 100 and 220 yard sprinter, Don Simmons, quarter and half-miler, and Larry Angleman, high hurdler, were the three stars graduated last June. With the aid of Captain Larry Urquhart and Dave Morrison, captain in '35 and '36, the team will be coached by Bill Brann, and George Smith. The trackmen returning from last year include Urquhart, quarter-miler, Morrison, Joe Loggia, and Bill Schrampf, milers, Gerson Gordon and Jack McDonough, half-milers, Rufus Young, sprinter, Chris Lipscombe, high jumper, Harold Lloyd, Tony Pellegrino, and Bill Russ, pole vaulters, Carl Twine, broad jumper, and Stan Gabruck, Jack Hageman, and Bill Shumsky, weight throwers.

TENNIS

To improve on the record compiled by last year's tennis team would be quite a task, but in all events prospects for another good team this season are promising. The returning members of the squad, who lost only to East Orange High in a brilliant season in 1936, are Bill Willis, Ray Tice, Everett Bishop, and Melvin Bogas. The team realized a great loss when Hub Stine, a most consistent winner last season, was graduated last June. A strong addition to this year's team will be Joe Di Libro, present city boy champion, who can keep in stride with the best of racket wielders. Although this will be only the second season in which tennis has been a major sport, Coach Bill Sette agrees that it has become one of the most popular.

RIFLE

A new sport was introduced in P. H. S. last winter, when a rifle team was formed under the tutelage of Mr. Ralph Patch. A championship combination was developed from the following boys: Bill Patch, captain, Norman Elliott, John Sette, Warren Beebe, Stanley Brower, Kenneth Carpenter, Kenneth Goldman, Irving Gordon, Donald James, Richard Johnson, Bob Neilsen, and Joe Tombro. By the middle of March the team had scored nine victories and suffered only one defeat. The defeat came at the hands of Summit High in a five-man match, the Cardinals having previously vanquished that team in a ten-man match. The customary match consists of ten men on each team, the victor being determined from the five highest scores from each team. The teams which were defeated by the eagle-eyed Cardinals were Wardlaw, Summit, Linden twice, Caldwell twice, Thomas Jefferson, Pingry, and Roselle. For a first year sport, Coach Patch has accomplished exceedingly well. Best of luck for the future.

HOCKEY

Last winter for the first time ice hockey was officially recognized as a P. H. S. winter sport, with all boys invited to compete for positions on the team. Jack Liddy, who starred at the game in college, agreed to coach the squad. Although handicapped by lack of ice in Plainfield due to unusually warm weather, Coach Liddy was able to teach the boys the fundamentals of good hockey with the use of the gym floor. The only ice to be found was at Princeton, 25 miles away! The team played four games during the season on the Princeton rink losing to Hun and Lawrenceville, defeating Millburn, and tying Peddie. The team included Bob Seidell, goalie; Gil Colestock, Harold Nelson, Art Swenson, and Ken Throckmorton, defensemen; Johnny Tombro and Jerry Hausdoerffer, centers; and Charlie Harthan, Ed Marahrens, Bob Gundlach, Gil Pittington, Clyde Kilburn, Alden Brown, and Dave Shea, wingmen.

ENTREE

The Entree, our bi-weekly school newspaper, gives excellent opportunities to those students who may have journalistic and business talents. It also develops otherwise latent talents. More than fifty students work on the three staffs, editorial, business, and circulation. Each staff is headed by a student who has received sufficient experience for his particular position. The faculty advisers for each of the three staffs are: Miss Elizabeth Green, editorial; Miss Eleanor Johnstone, circulation; Mr. A. Hamilton Otto, business.

The heads of the 1936 and 1937 staffs are as follows:

	1936	1937
Editor-in-chief	Ruth Jasin	Jane Brower
News Editor	Ann Guinee Gilda Nargi	Leonore Kantor
Sports Editor	James Williams Carl Kling	Robert Lounsbury
Feature Editor	Eleanor Corcoran Betty Bradley Jane Brower	Elinore Shrager
Circulation Manager	Evelyn Ryan	Evelyn Ryan
Business Manager	Virginia Baldwin	Virginia Baldwin
Picture Editor		Marcia Friedman
Photographer	Jack Glass	Arthur Krienke
Cartoonist		Samuel Leone

The Entree is a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, which holds a yearly competition of school newspapers all over the country. This year the Entree won third place in its class.

SOCIAL SERVICE CLUB

The Social Service Club has as its primary functions the management of Thanksgiving contributions to the Children's Home, and the organizing of the Home Room Christmas baskets to poor families. During the year it has raised money in various ways, namely, candy sales and a card party. The social high spot of the year was the tea dance held in the auditorium on Saturday, April 17. Because the membership is so large, the original club has been divided into two organizations; one, the Senior Club, for Juniors and Seniors, the other, the Junior Club, for Freshmen and Sophomores. The officers for the Senior Club this year have been:

President—Muriel Manning
Vice-President—Nancy Johnson
Secretary—Myra Van Arsdale
Treasurer—Betty Brown
Dance Chairman—Miriam Miller

The officers-elect for 1937-38 are:

Senior Club

President—Audrey Morrison
Vice-President—Betty Brown
Secretary—Mary Cornell
Treasurer—Beatrice Morrison
Dance Chairman—Jean Saunders

SENIOR PLAY

To Miss Le Fevre is due the credit for another of our fine senior performances.

This year the senior class presented "The Witching Hour," a melodrama in four acts. The actors all did very well in their parts, and the play was a splendid success.

The cast was as follows:

Jo Harvey	Thomas Wright
Jack Brookfield	Furman Phelps
Tom Denning	Charles Curran
Mrs. Alice Campbell	Ann Slocum
Mrs. Helen Randolph	Helen Feinsilber
Judy Campbell	Janet Wilson
Clay Randolph	Carlton Rice
Frank Hardmuth	Robert Ware
